One Hundred Seventeenth Congress

Select Committee to Investigate the January 6th Attack on the United States Capitol

January 13, 2022

Mr. Mark Zuckerberg
Chief Executive Officer
Meta Platforms, Inc.

Dear Mr. Zuckerberg:

Pursuant to the authorities set forth in House Resolution 503 and the rules of the House of Representatives, the Select Committee to Investigate the January 6th Attack on the United States Capitol (“Select Committee”) hereby transmits a subpoena that compels Meta Platforms, Inc.<sup>1</sup> to produce the documents set forth in the accompanying schedule by January 27, 2022.

The Select Committee is investigating the facts, circumstances, and causes of the January 6th attack and issues relating to the peaceful transfer of power, in order to identify and evaluate lessons learned and to recommend to the House and its relevant committees corrective laws, policies, procedures, rules, or regulations. The inquiry includes examination of how various individuals and entities communicated and coordinated their activities leading up to the events of January 6, 2021, as well as the influencing factors that fomented such an attack on American representative democracy while engaged in a constitutional process.

Among other areas of investigation, the Select Committee has been investigating the use of social media products to organize the attack, whether social media products contribute to radicalization and/or the spread of misinformation or disinformation, and what these companies know about their use in the attack itself, or the spread of extremism that enabled the attack.<sup>2</sup>

Meta is the largest social media company in the world.<sup>3</sup> According to public reports, people used Meta’s platforms in the months and days before January 6, 2021, to share messages of hate, violence, and incitement, to spread misinformation, disinformation, and conspiracy theories around the election, and to coordinate or attempt to coordinate the Stop the Steal movement.<sup>4</sup> Recent public statements from former Facebook employee and whistleblower Frances Haugen and public reports about documents she disclosed have added to the public's understanding of Facebook's research, structure, incentives, actions, successes, and failures.<sup>5</sup>

The Select Committee believes Meta has information critical to its investigation. To take but one example, according to public accounts, following the November 2020 election and prior to the January 6th attack on the U.S. Capitol, Facebook disbanded the Civic Integrity team that had focused on risks to election including misinformation,<sup>6</sup> and reduced the application of tools used to restrain the spread of violent content.<sup>7</sup> However, despite repeated and specific requests for documents related to these matters, the Select Committee still has not received these materials.

Additionally, Meta has failed to provide critical internal and external analyses conducted by the company regarding misinformation, disinformation, and malinformation relating to the 2020 election, efforts to challenge or overturn the election, and the use of Meta by domestic violent extremists to affect the 2020 election. The Select Committee expressly requested that information in an August 26, 2021 letter<sup>8</sup> and despite repeated and specific follow-up requests on September 28, 2021, and October 29, 2021, Meta has declined to commit to a deadline for producing or even identifying these materials.
